Company Info

We here at Collaboration Condensation have always believed the best way to go and do just about anything is to make it more accessible. Our company focuses on providing the tools and assets required for every would-be and current surfer out there at a convenient, low-end price. We primarily focus on providing beginner's gear, but have a wide variety of professionally suited materials as well such as our signature scuba tanks and wetsuits. On our pages you'll find everything you need to get started, along with a guide below on the know-how of how to get started, along with some general advice for those in need of it.

We hope you enjoy your time exploring all the possibilities of going out to the great surf!

Pro Tips:

Always remember these tips from the pros when you're about to head out to surf! They could help keep you safe.

- Get the right size of board for your body. It should be at least 2 inches taller than you are.

- Remember to wax your surfboard before heading out. This will provide grip and prevent you from falling off as easily.

- Remember to bring a grip or harness so it is easy to cling to your board in case of exhaustion or emergency.
